"LEARNING JOINTS THROUGH FUN ACTIVITIES"

Learning About Types of Joints Through a Creative Activity

Students participated in an interesting and hands-on Science activity to understand the human skeletal system and the different types of joints in the human body. Using cotton buds and black chart paper, they creatively made skeleton models, representing the major bones and joints of the body. Through this engaging activity, students learned about different types of joints, such as hinge joints, ball-and-socket joints, pivot joints, and gliding joints. They understood how joints connect bones and help our bodies perform various movements, including bending, turning, and rotating.

“The activity encouraged creativity, active participation, and experiential learning. It made the concept easier to understand and helped students connect their textbook knowledge with real-life examples. It was a fun-filled and educational experience that made learning Science more meaningful, interactive, and enjoyable!”

PLASTIC BAG FREE DAY

We celebrated International Plastic Bag Free Day. It's not just another date on the calendar. It's a reminder to say _no_ to something we use every day without thinking – the plastic bag.

One plastic bag takes just 20 seconds to make, is used for 12 minutes on average, and then takes 500 years to disappear. In those 500 years, it chokes our rivers, kills sea turtles, clogs Lucknow's drains during monsoon, and even enters our food as microplastics.

We students may think, “What difference can one bag make?” But imagine this: If every student in our school refuses just 2 plastic bags a week, that's over 50,000 bags saved in a year from our school alone.

The Earth doesn't need us to be perfect. It needs all of us to do a _little_ bit better. Let's make our city cleaner and our Gomti river plastic-free.

This 3rd July, let's take a pledge: I will refuse plastic bags, reuse what I have, and respect my planet. Because the future is not plastic – the future is in our hands.

Thank you, and happy Plastic Bag Free Day!
